College Principal Dr. ChandraShekharBhardwaj and seminar coordinator Dr. SubhashSaini, ShriRamesh Sharma, Publicity Officer of Indian Ray Society inaugurated the seminar by offering floral tributes. Principal Dr. ChandraShekhar welcomed the invited guests on their arrival at the college by giving them saplings and said that it is a matter of pride that this seminar is being organized with the courtesy of Indian Red Cross Society Haryana (Chandigarh). Convener of the program, SubhashSaini heartily congratulated all the guests, students, professors and speakers and said that today the whole world is in dire need of universalism and humanism. The world becoming insensitive is more dangerous than the corona virus. To keep this sentiment alive, the theme 'World Fraternity and Humanism' has been chosen by the Youth Red Cross of Dyal Singh College. Speaker Mr. Ramesh Sharma, who came from Chandigarh, told in his address that all the credit for the stage at which the Red Cross has reached today is dedicated to the founder of the Red Cross, Sir Jean Henry Duna. Today, if anyone can stop the speed at which linguistic, ethnic and communal frenzy is increasing in the whole world, then it is humanism. I congratulate Dyal Singh College for choosing such a wonderful topic for the seminar. Dr. Ajay Bhatia, in-charge of the District Red Cross Handicapped Welfare Committee, who came from Karnal, told in his address that today in about 195 countries of the world, the Red Cross is engaged day and night in the works of human service with complete dedication. Red Cross is the only organization in the whole world which is beyond the boundaries of caste, religion, creed, sect and country. Whenever there is a disaster in the world, then the whole world looks towards the Red Cross with hopeful eyes and the workers of the Red Cross serve humanity only and only protecting the world brotherhood by moving away from all the bonds.
