SEMINAR REPORT

NSS units of Dyal Singh College, Karnal organized a one day National Seminar on the topic "भारत को स्वावलम्बी बनाने में राष्ट्रीय सेवा योजना का योगदान" 'Role of NSS in making India Self Reliant" sponsored by Director General Higher Education, Haryana. The Atmanirbhar Bharat Abhiyan (Self-reliant India Mission) is a framework for building a self-reliant India, which would be competitive globally. It is also looking to strengthen local manufacturing, build local supply chains, and convert local products into global brands. This Abhiyan also had a major agenda of being a nation of job-creators and not just-seekers.

The Government of India is trying hard to best utilize the power of youth in new startups to achieve the target of self-reliant India, so it is high time to encourage and motivate young volunteers. This seminar provided a platform to distinguish experts in the field and delegates from different institutes to deliberate on the given topic. In the seminar, a total of 102 delegates from different states of India including Haryana, Punjab, Kerala, Tamilnadu, Madhya Pradesh and Himachal Pradesh got registered and 60 delegates (including individual and joint presentations) presented 38 research papers.

The inaugural session was graced by Dr. Samar Singh, Vice-chancellor, Maharana Pratap University of Horticulture, Karnal as Chief Guest and Dr. Anil Vashishth, Dean Student Welfare and Nodal Officer of Atmanirbhar Haryana, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra, Haryana as the Keynote Speaker.

Before officially starting the proceedings of the session, a tree plantation was done by the distinguished guests of the day. The NSS volunteers of the college welcomed the distinguished guests and delegates by putting a 'Chandan Tilak' due to summer season representing the heritage cultural knowledge of India. The inaugural session started with the lighting of the divine lamp by the worthy guests along with Principal of the college, NSS Programme Officers Dr. Dimple Khosla, Dr. Tejpal and Dr. Rubi.

Dr. Ashima Gakhar, Principal of the college, welcomed the guests with the planters and presented a brief introduction of the Chief Guest- Dr. Samar Singh and Keynote Speaker-Dr. Anil Vashishth. She told the audience that as a preliminary part of this seminar, the college celebrated World Youth Skill Day on July 15th, 2022 by organizing various skill based competitions for school students like Poster Making, Slogan Writing and Rangoli Making. These creations were exhibited on the day of the Seminar. She also gave an overview of various skill based stalls that were exhibited to showcase the live examples of Atmanirbhar Bharat. She said that NSS units of our college always tries to build an environment that not only enhances the feeling of social responsibility but also gives the volunteers an encouragement to become a 'VOLUNTEER' in real sense. She congratulated and gave her best wishes to the NSS team for organizing this seminar and for selecting such a relevant topic for the deliberation.

Dr. Dimple Khosla, NSS Program Officer and Convener of this seminar introduced the theme. She said that NSS volunteers are young Indians and they represent the most dynamic and vibrant section of the Society. If the power of students is directed to constructive purposes, the whole nation will move to all round development. Our youth is full of skills, the only need is to recognize and channelize their skills and energy. Now, a number of path-breaking initiatives have been taken like 'Make in India', 'Digital India', 'Skill India' and much more. The students/volunteers and the youth of our country are indulging in these activities with much enthusiasm. So, these volunteers can be contributors as well as beneficiaries of all these initiatives started by the Indian Government to achieve the target of Self-Reliant India. She also said that this Seminar has been organized with the objective of discussing the emerging issues, potential areas, problems and challenges related to Atmanirbhar Bharat.

In his inaugural address, Dr. Samar Singh emphasized that new opportunities for employment and self-employment can be created through skill-development. We can take India to new heights by self-employment. He described the indigenous model of Indian economy as the need of the hour. Dr. Samar pointed out that while learning we should earn something in student life itself, the sooner we learn to earn, the more confidence we will get and we will become self-reliant. He raised the issue of 'Food availability' as the most important need of human beings. He quoted an example of cultivation of mushrooms for being self reliant. He said that Mushroom is a business that can be started with nominal funds and if successful, the mushroom production can be augmented at any stage. Though, the mushroom is rich in nutrition value, still the consumption of mushrooms is only 100 grams per person in our country, whereas, in the Netherlands and China, it is used widely. The price of the latest variety of mushrooms is high in the market, and their production can help farmers earn a good income. Prof. Samar Singh said that the farmers should also be informed about economic analysis and marketing of mushrooms. He also discussed some of the successful stories of farmers who raised their status by growing mushrooms. Dr. Anil Vashishth in his keynote address emphasized the importance and role of youth in the successful implementation of the initiatives taken by Honorable Prime Minister of India to achieve the goal of self-reliant India. He said that we have to work on the ground to inculcate the spirit of indigenous self-reliance among the youth and make Haryana poverty free and fully employable. Employment-oriented education and policies have to be made and our New Education Policy is an important step in this direction. He said that there is a need to find out the potential ideas from the young generation that could be converted into small ventures and for that we should arrange small workshops for the students in which they come forward with their ideas, demonstrate these and they get the proper training for starting their venture.

A special session was conducted under the chairmanship of Dr. Rajbir Singh Gulia, General Manager, Dyal Singh College Trust Society to practically impart knowledge of some aspects regarding skill-based ventures. In this session, Mr. M.K. Verma, Assistant Director, Micro Small and Medium Enterprises (MSME), Karnal-Ludhiana Division, who was the guest speaker of the session, told about various schemes of Government of India available for promoting skill based ventures for young entrepreneurs. He told step by step the procedure of availing these schemes. After that Mr. Sunil, an entrepreneur from Panipat elaborated his startup of essential oils.

The day began with Activity One in the form of Swachhata Pledge. College Principal Dr. Ashima Gakhar along with Program Officer Dr. Dimple Khosla and Dr. Tejpal administered the oath to the students. Dr. Ashima addressed and motivated the students to keep their surroundings clean every day. She said that they should inspire all other students daily by setting an example with their actions. After the oath, she flagged off the cleanliness rally as the next activity of the campaign. Around 200 volunteers enthusiastically participated in the rally. To make people aware about the need of cleanliness, the students raised slogans of Swachhata very loudly. As part of their third activity, they went to different homes and made people aware | regarding dry waste and wet waste. They told them the benefits of segregating the waste.

After coming back to the college, the 4th activity was taken by Dr. Tejpal in the form of 'Swachh Shahar Samvaad'. He addressed them and told them how with their small efforts they can help in making their city clean and beautiful. While telling them regarding the benefits of the cleanliness he also told them regarding the ways of utilisation of plastic waste.

He also gave them the directions regarding the fifth activity of the campaign i.e., areas to be cleaned. Students cleaned the campus in the supervision of Dr. Tejpal. Starting from the science ground, then auditorium, classrooms and sports ground they collected the plastic waste from everywhere and then collected the cut waste of trees. The entire campus was cleaned with brooms. After that they also cleaned the NSS store. Thereafter in the evening all the nails were fixed of all the benches wherever loose or broken in all the classrooms.

At the end of the camp, Dr. Tejpal said that everyone should run a cleanliness drive around them, so that we can keep ourselves clean and healthy. Whatever diseases are arising in today's time, it is happening only due to lack of cleanliness. We spend a lot of money in these diseases, but even then, people are not understanding how important cleanliness is for human life which can save them from many diseases. He called upon the people to understand the importance of cleanliness and adopt it as a habit in their life.
