(Affiliated to Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra)

ABOUT THE COLLEGE

Dyal Singh College, Karnal, celebrates 75 years of educational excellence. Established in Lahore, Pakistan, in 1910, it was re-established in Karnal in 1949 after India's partition. As the city's only NAAC-accredited Grade A+ college, it has grown into a beacon of knowledge, shaping countless lives. The co-educational institution offers diverse programmes across Arts, Science, and Commerce, including postgraduate courses in English, Hindi, Political Science, Chemistry, and Commerce, as well as a 5-year Integrated MSc in Forensic Science. Recently, it expanded its undergraduate offerings by introducing Music, Psychology, Physical Education, and BBA, fostering a dynamic and inclusive learning environment.

Thrust Areas of the Conference

As we stand at the crossroads of environmental challenges and the pursuit of sustainable development, the imperative for inclusive green economies becomes increasingly evident. This conference seeks to delve into the nexus of women's entrepreneurship, environmental sustainability, and the quest for environmental concern. Titled "Inclusive Green Economies: Women, Entrepreneurship, and Environmental Concerns," this gathering aims to unravel the complex relationships between these crucial elements and chart a path toward a more equitable and sustainable future.

Key Objectives

The conference explores women's entrepreneurship, environmental sustainability, and inclusive green economies, aiming to synthesize knowledge, research, and best practices. It analyzes policies, proposes recommendations for gender equality, and fosters collaboration among stakeholders. Through interdisciplinary dialogue, it seeks innovative solutions to empower stakeholders and build sustainable, equitable, and resilient economies.

Future Outcomes

The conference envisions fostering global collaboration, empowering women entrepreneurs, and advancing inclusive green economies. It aims to inspire sustainable practices, address environmental challenges, and promote gender equality, driving innovative solutions and long-term resilience for equitable and sustainable development worldwide.

Sub-themes

- Women's Role in Driving Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)
- Innovative Green Entrepreneurship and Eco-Friendly Startups
- Policy Frameworks for Inclusive and Green Economic Growth
- Gender Equality in Climate Action and Environmental Sustainability
- Circular Economy: Women Entrepreneurs Leading the Change
- Socio-Economic Challenges in Promoting Green Enterprises for Women
- Education and Training for Women in Green Economy Sectors
- Green Technologies and Women Innovators
- Any other topic related to the theme of the conference
